THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE.

NEW VOLUME.

On the seventh of September, 1861, THE NEW YORK WEEKLY TRIBUNE commenced the twenty-first year of its existence: THE DAILY TRIBUNE being some menths older and THE SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE somewhat younger. For more than twenty years, this journal has labored in what its conductors have felt to be the cause of Humanity, Justice and Freedom, endeavoring to meliorate the condition of the oppressed and unfortunate, to honor and encourage used exertion in whatever sphere, and, to promote by all means the moral, intellectual and material advancement of our country. It has aimed to be right rather than popular, and to esponse and commend to-day the truth that others may not be willing to necept till to-morrow. In pursuing this course, mistakes have doubtless been made and faults committed; but, baving in all things incited our readers to think and judge for themselves rather than adopt blindly our own or others' conclusions, we believe we may fairly claim for this journal the credit of having qualified its readers to detect and expose even its own errors.
To develop the minds of the young by the most general, thorrough and practical Education, and to encourage and of immature or peculiarly exposed branches from toe powerful
of immature or peculiarly exposed branches from toe powerful eventh of September, 1861, THE NEW YORK of immature or peculiarly exposed branches from toe powerful foreign competition, are among the sims to which this journal has adhered through good and evil report, and which it steadfastly commends to American patriotism and philanthropy.

As to the Civil War now devastating our country, we hold it tohave originated in a Rebellion more wanton, wholed, inexcusable, then was ever before known—a Rebellion in the interest of the few against the many—a Rebellion designed to raise higher the walls of caste and tighten the chains of oppression. Having done all we could without a surrender of vital principle to avoid this Var, and witnessed the forbearance, mechanes and long-affering with which the federal Government sought to avert its horrors, we hold it our clear duty, with that of every other citizen, to stand by the pation and its fairly chosen rulers, and to second with all our energies their efforts to publid the Union, the Constitution, and the supremacy of the Laws. And, though the Rebellion has become, through usurpation deception, terrorism, and spoliation, tearfully strong we believe the American Republic far stronger, and that the unanimous, earnest efforts of loyal hearts and hands will insure its overthrow. But on all questions affecting the objects, the scope, and duration of this most extraordinary contest, we defer to those whom the American Feeple have clothed with authority, holding unity of purpose and of action indispensable ins grave an emergency.

holding unity of purpose and of action indispensable in so grave an emergency.

In a crisi like the present, our columns must be largely engrossed with the current history of the War for the Union, and with elucidations of its more striking incidents. We shall not, however, remit that attention to Literature, to Foreign Affairs, to Agricultural Progress, to Crope, Markets &c., &c., which has arready, we trust, won for THE TRIBUNE an honorable position among its cotemporaries. Our main object is and shall be to produce a comprehensive newspaper, from which a careful reader may glean a vivid and faithful history of the times, not merely in the domain of Action but in that of Opinion also. As our facilities for acquiring information increase with years, we trust that an innovement in the contents of our journal is perceptible, and that, in the variety and fullness of intelligence afforded, we may still hope to "maxe each day a critic on the last." In this hope, we solicit a continuance of the generous measure of patronage hitherto accorded to our journal.
